DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's arguments in communications filed November 7, 2007 are persuasive. The election requirement is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Malz et al. (WO02/02684) in view of Gupta et al. (US 5,175,349).

Citations of Malz refer to US 6,995,230, the English equivalent.

Considering Claims 1-18: Malz et al. teaches stabilizers containing at least two phenolic groups bonded to one another via a connecting racial which is a polyol with a number-average molecular weight of from 100xF g/mol to 150xF g/mol, where the term F is the number of phenolic goups in the molecule (Abs). The connecting residues preferably have a number-average molar mass smaller than their weight-average molar mass (3:55-60). The particularly preferred stabilizers are those comprising two compounds according to Formula I (3:25-35), bonded via polytetrahydrofuran or polyethylene glycol (4:40-55). Such compounds correspond to the claimed stabilizers X and XX. These compounds have molecular weights of approximately 800-900.

Malz does not teach using these compounds to stabilize isocyanates. However, Gupta et al, teaches using hindered phenol compounds (1:50-60), corresponding to the compounds of Formula I of Malz, for stabilizing organic polyisocyanates (1:1-10). Gupta uses these stabilizers in an amount from 30 to 100 ppm (2:60-65) in a mixture of tolylene-2,4-diisocyanate and tolylene-2,6-diisocyanate (2:45-55). Gupta also teaches using the stabilized polyisocyanates in the production of polyurethanes (2:30-40). Malz and Gupta are combinable because they are from the same field of endeavor, namely hindered phenol stabilizers. At the time of the invention a person of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have used the stabilizers in isocyanate mixtures, as taught by Gupta, as a known use of hindered phenol compounds.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See attached form PTO-892.
